

Audrey Burghardt, MS
Senior Advisor

Audrey Burghardt is a Senior Advisor with Genesis Health Consulting, as well as the Founder and Principal of Freespace Innovation, LLC, a health, social service and community consulting firm. Previously, Audrey managed a research and development team within a nationally-recognized pediatric health system. The team led the design and implementation of strategies and infrastructure to improve health equity and coordinate and integrate pediatric care across clinical, community and behavioral health settings. With Veronica and Sara, Audrey also led the development and scaling of the health system's first clinically integrated social determinants of health screening program. Audrey holds a Master of Science in Community Psychology with a concentration in community research and consultation from Alverno College. She is a State of Wisconsin certified social worker and trained facilitator with extensive cross-sector experience.
